Capture and Recapture of the Steam-Tug Leviathan.

The Morning Star, Capt. J. M. COURTENAY, arrived at her wharf at an early hour yesterday, having left New-Orleans on the 22d, at 9 A. M. The bar pilot who brought the Morning Star out of Southwest Pass, reported that the small tug Leviathan, then lying under the guns of the De Soto, was boarded the night before (Sept. 21) by a party of men who came out in a small boat from shore, took possession of the tug and carried her out to sea. Two or three gunboats were lying by when the tug was taken, but the loss was not discovered till the Leviathan was several miles out in the Gulf. At daylight the De Soto signaled one of the other gunboats, and both put out for the tug. They overhauled her 20 miles out, captured her and brought her back, with all on board, to the Pass. The men who attempted to "confiscate" the tug were brought back in irons.

The Morning Star has experienced very boisterous weather during the entire passage, at times encountering gales. At 9 A. M. of the 24th, the wind blowing heavily in squalls from northeast, the barometer fell to 28.07. In the Mississippi River, was spoken by United States gunboat Bienville; all well; wished to be reported.

In lat. 24° 44 North, lon. 83° 25', Sept. 24, exchanged signals with steamer Locust Point, bound West.

Sept. 25. Tortugas light east by south, distance 20 miles, was boarded by United States gunboat Sunflower on a cruise; all well on board. Same date, 9 P. M., Sand Key light bearing north, distant 12 miles, exchanged signals with steamship Evening Star bound west. Sept. 27, Cape Hatteras light bearing west, distant 12 miles, passed a steamer, supposed to be the Columbia, bound south.

The gunboat Aroostook had also arrived for repairs.

The paroled Vicksburgh prisoners at Mobile are suffering the greatest hardships for want of care and food, and openly declare that if they are forced into the field again they will leave in the first battle.

It is supposed of the 27,000 men paroled at Vicksburgh, not more than 5,000 will ever be forced into the ranks.

Gold had declined at New-Orleans to 37@40 per cent. premium.

The Clinton has a number of passengers, the mails, and 50 paroled rebel officers, together with a large cargo of sugar, cotton and oil.

OUR NEW-ORLEANS CORRESPONDENCE

The Weather and the Public Health—Gen. Shepley's Arrival—Cotton from Natchez—Important Prizes—Guerrillas.

DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF,
NEW-ORLEANS, Tuesday, Sept. 22, 1863.

After an "heated term" of extraordinary severity, the weather has suddenly grown cool, and to those in robust health, it is particularly refreshing. The next official report of deaths for the week will, no doubt, show an alarming increase of mortality, for it is a melancholy fact, founded on all past experience, that the sick or even the weak convalescent, by these sudden changes die like tender tropical plants touched with frost. The City of New-Orleans, however, is exceedingly healthy, and has been so all Summer. There has not been a case of yellow fever, at least such a one as an old experienced practitioner would pronounce genuine. There have been fevers common to all climates, originated, no doubt, by the extreme heat, but nothing more. When it is considered how many Northern and Western troops have been here all Summer, and how careless these troops are, as a rule, of all sanitary laws, it is indeed wonderful how exempt they and the citizens of this place have been from disease. An effective quarantine, thorough drainage, clean streets and clean yards have triumphed over the plague, and it will be the fault of the people here in all time to come if the place is ever decimated by the pestilence that has, more than all other things combined, kept the "Crescent City" from becoming a competitor for metropolitan splendor with New-York.

The arrival of Gen. SHEPLEY here was greeted with satisfaction by the people generally. One of the early comers, he has gone through and witnessed the various phases that city has exhibited since it was "taken by the Federals." He remembers the difficulties which beset the path of all in authority who first attempted to restore the city to the Union; and his long residence—long in these troublous times—has given Gen. SHEPLEY a mass of experience that is invaluable to him as Chief Magistrate of the State and city. I would say in this connection that a large mass of the people are desirous of having the privilege of voting for their public officers. I believe a Committee of distinguished citizens recently waited on Gen. SHEPLEY, to urge upon him the importance of speedily ordering such an election. I have not heard the result, but I believe the General very properly desires that when the civil rights of the people of this State are restored, a large part of the State, larger than is now under our absolute control, should enjoy the benefits of such a privilege. It should be remembered, however, that for more than a year we have had more than half of the entire population of Louisiana under the old flag. The regions not in this category are large in size, so far as land and bayous are concerned, but not over crowded with population. The sentiment, however, for a State and municipal election has been started, and it will grow daily more and more effective until the demand is met and the people gratified. The result, I think, will be beneficial in the State and have a moral effect on the Union and abroad. I do not believe that the people of Louisiana, once more permitted to control their own destiny, will be swift to trifle with their privileges or rush, without due consideration, as they did some two years ago, headlong into rebellion.

On Saturday night last, a steamer arrived here from Natchez with some five hundred and ninety bales of cotton on board; some fifteen hundred more are to follow in a few days, if transportation can be had. I have never been able to understand why the authorities have not encouraged in every possible way the bringing in of cotton, or anything else of value, within our lines. That there should be most stringent regulations about taking things out is just and proper. Had the policy announced by Gen. BUTLER in his letter to REVERDY JOHNSON, that he would protect the sugar and cotton of JOHN SLIDELL, if it was brought into the city for sale, been carried out, we should now have in our city, up to this time, at least a quarter of a million of bales, the profits of which to the merchants and laborers, and the duties paid to the Government, would have materially benefited the people here, and added a large sum to the United States Treasury. As it is, the embarrassments thrown in the way of commercial intercourse on both sides, is culminating in the present renewed destruction of the cotton on the part of the rebels, a loss less felt by the owners, because of the difficulties they have experienced in endeavoring to get their property within our lines.

There are several rich prizes now at Quarantine waiting for a clean bill of health to permit their coming up to the city. One of these is the merchant steamer Warrin, captured while coming from Havana, bound for any port in Florida. The cargo is a return of the product of a load of cotton run out of Mobile. There is also the merchant steamer Alabama. I have not heard of what her cargo consists. The Alice Vivian, it is said, has a thousand bales of cotton on board. The merchant steamer Montgomery, captured on the same day with the Alabama. The steamer Fox, which was destroyed a few days since off Chandeleur Islands, is the same vessel that Capt. WALKER, a paroled Confederate prisoner, some months ago captured at the mouth of the Mississippi, and escaped to Mobile, where he received an ovation. There has nothing been heard of the Fox until her timely end was announced as burned by one of our blockading vessels.

The prize Atlantic, of which much has already been published in the Northern papers, bound for this port, has not been heard from. There is no doubt but that the prize-crew and officers were overpowered by the prisoners on board, and the vessel now, no doubt, is in some Confederate port, or more likely at Havana or Nassau. The prize-master was Acting Ensign MILLER, said to have been an excellent officer; his crew consisted of four men. The Captain of the Atlantic and four of his crew was with MILLER. The blockade Captain was an old hand at the rascality, having served at the business in the Crimean war. He threatened that he would get his vessel back, or rather that he would play some trick on the United States authorities, and he did it. It is supposed that the prize-crew was plied with liquor, as there was a quantity on board of the Atlantic, and in this condition they were overpowered. It is to be hoped that no worse fate than capture has befallen them or their unfortunate commander.

Speaking about blockaders, I would say that most of their prizes are from the mouth of the Rio Grande. I have talked with a number of the prisoners taken on board of these blockaders, and brought here as witnesses against their vessels about affairs at Matanzas and Brownsville. They inform me that an immense business is being done at both places, shipping cotton from Texas and sending goods back again into the heart of the Confederacy. They say that the cotton from Texas, when it arrives at Brownsville, is immediately floated across the narrow river on to the Mexican shore; it is then, in presence of our fleet, put on board of foreign vessels and carried away. From the most careful inquiry I could not learn that there were three hundred Confederate troops at Brownsville. Some of the witnesses said they were in the place two or three weeks at a time and never saw a soldier; others remember seeing one or two straggling companies. Fort Brown was a one time dismantled, the guns having been taken in-t to the interior. When shall we have this gate-way of rascality shut up? Demolish Charleston, and then let us have possession of Brownsville in the mouth of the Rio Grande.

There is at present a guerrilla force operating in Mississippi under Col. LOGAN, composed of some fifteen hundred men, which is doing an immense sight of damage to the local inhabitants of every vicinity they visit. It is not according to their tactics to risk their valuable lives by making war upon the enemy, (the National forces,) but they confine their work exclusively to the unhappy citizens of the Confederacy. Their only aim seems to be to burn and destroy what little of value is left on the plantations that already have been so often robbed by the orders of the benign Government at Richmond. A few days since LOGAN and some of his men made a dash upon the vicinity of Natchez, and before they were alarmed enough to leave the neighborhood they burned some 500 bales of cotton almost within the suburbs of the city, certainly not five miles from the river bluff. This cotton belonged to several planters, who were keeping it until such time as they could with safety bring it within the National lines, and be enabled to sell it for their own and their creditors' benefit. The people of the State—the few the conscription has left at home—are very much exasperated at this wanton destruction of their property. The Confederate Government is too weak to afford them protection, but leaves them the victims of land pirates and robbers, who destroy what little they have, rather than it should fall into the hands of those who are fighting for the Union. I know of no people whose position is so wretched as these Southern planters who have, up to date, saved a little from the wreck of their once splendid fortunes. It is safe to say that the wealthy men of the South everywhere were more or less conservative; they were always willing to move slowly, and were dragooned finally into supporting overt rebellion by the fear of losing their property. They have given, and given, then been robbed from time to time as the rebel military authorities saw fit; and now, when the same authority is demolished in a fair struggle of honorable warfare, instead of acting the part of an honorable foe, and submitting to the fate of war, the Confederates send their guerrilla troops scouring through the already desolated land, to burn and destroy what little rebel rapacity had left. Verily, the way of rebellion is hard, and each day develops the fact to its unhappy victims. There is but little use in attempting to catch the gang of land pirates commanded by LOGAN. He has mounted his men in the finest racehorse region of the United States, and I am told that, whenever he finds a good horse on any plantation, he immediately exchanges it for the poorest one in his command. In this way he keeps his men splendidly mounted, and rides from one section to another with almost incredible quickness. That he will destroy millions of dollars' worth of cotton in Mississippi alone, there cannot be a doubt, but he is a flaming minister working against the rebel cause, for wherever the footprints of his horses show themselves in the soil, there is left behind black desolation, and a doubly-soured people, who give utterance in silence and darkness to deep and soul-felt imprecations upon the political leaders who fired the Southern heart, and prepared the Southern people for rebellion; and of all men most hated and despised in Mississippi, is LOGAN and his satanic master, JEFF. DAVIS.

REBEL PRISONERS.

From the Era, Sept. 21.

Fifty rebel officers, prisoners of war, were yesterday morning sent North per steamship Clinton, to be exchanged. The prisoners were all captured in this Department, principally at Port Hudson, and since the fall of that place have been confined in the different military prisons in New-Orleans.

THE TAX.

ASSESSOR'S OFFICE, DISTRICT OF LOUISIANA,
NEW-ORLEANS, Sept. 21, 1863.

Owners and holders of cotton in the City of New-Orleans, are hereby notified to report the same to this office immediately, for assessment of the excise tax thereon. Hereafter the excise tax on all cotton arriving at New-Orleans will be assessed before the cotton is delivered to consignees.

WM. H. HIGGINS,
Assessor, District of Louisiana.

COTTON.

From the Picayune, Sept. 20.

Bolls and samples of cotton of this season's growth continue to pour in upon us. It appears that the high prices of last year induced most every one having a spare piece of ground to plant the seeds of the great staple. We have before us an opened boll raised by our fellow-citizen THOMAS FELLOWS, in his garden, opposite Tivoli Circle, only a few hundred yards from our sanctum. It has a very silky, glossy appearance, and would do credit to some of the sea Islands. We have also a boll from the Caernarvon plantation, 16 miles below the city, where it is expected a good quantity in bales will be realized. Also, a sample of Sea Island, or which will pass for such, from the Third District. It is worth at this time, comparing to other qualities, two dollars per pound.

OUR KILLED AND WOUNDED.

The transport Arago, Capt. GADSDEN, from Charleston Bar 26th, at 9:30 A. M., arrived yesterday, making the run in 65 hours. She brings 60 first and 170 second class passengers and the usual mails. There is nothing new to report from the army or navy.

REPORTS OF DESERTERS.

A gentleman direct from Morris Island states that, a few days before he left, seven deserters arrived there from Sullivan's Island. Their story is that after the blowing up of the magazine of Fort Moultrie, and fully expecting a continuance of the shelling the following day, the rebels made preparations for the removal of their best guns, with the intention of evacuating the island. But finding the next morning that the shelling was not renewed, they concluded to wait a little longer.

These deserters reached Morris Island under the following circumstances: Several officers belonging to the garrison of Fort Moultrie, who had gone out yachting, went ashore at some point in the Bay, leaving their yacht in charge of these seven soldiers, two of whom acted as guard. As soon as the shore party were far enough away to make the attempt practicable, the soldiers, guards and all formed the plan of making use of the opportunity afforded them of placing themselves under the protection of the Stars and Stripes. So the sails were hoisted, the yacht swung off from her moorings, and the adventurers reached the American camp in safety. The yacht is said to be a very fine craft.

OUR MORRIS ISLAND CORRESPONDENCE.

Activity of the Rebels—Fort Johnson—The Works on James' Island—The Works on Sullivan's Island—Forts Pickens and Ripley—Fort Sumter—A Rebel Ram.

MORRIS ISLAND, S. C., Monday, Sept. 21, 1863.

Yesterday and last night considerable firing was going on at the front. Since the evacuation of Morris Island the enemy has not evinced a strong disposition to meddle with the land forces, if we may except the past 24 hours, when it would seem as if he was trying to revive old recollections. From a James' rifle on Fort Johnson he hurls a whizzing shell every now and then, which generally finds a resting-place somewhere in the vicinity of Wagner or Gregg. Perhaps the fact of our doing a little spading in that vicinity has served to awaken BEAUREGARD, who doubtless entertains a vague idea that his cannon will compel the workmen to drop their implements and at the same time abandon the task before them. But on that point he is much mistaken. The troops in this department are not so easily terrified, and will prosecute the scheme they have undertaken until the whole work shall have been completed. Fort Johnson, on account of a favorable position, has figured conspicuously in the siege operations, from the very commencement. When our parallels were being constructed, and before the necessary traverses were thrown up, the workmen were exposed to the fire of Johnson more than that of any other work. As the sappers advanced nearer and nearer to Wagner, Johnson became more furious, and threw shot as if the weal or woe of the rebel cause depended solely upon its efforts. At that time Johnson was scarcely heeded by our gunners, the grand points of attack being Sumter, Wagner and Gregg. But now, inasmuch as Morris Island has changed proprietors, and the works which occasioned so much fine artillery practice have shared the fate of the soil, time is afforded to bestow a little closer attention on points nearer Charleston. Just to test the range yesterday, one of our gunners on the left, fired his piece twice, putting a wholesome quantity of metal into Johnson each time. That simply shows what can be done, and proves the correctness of Gen. GILLMORE's remark, that the enemy cannot shell him without being shelled.

I have made previous mention of a line of earthworks on the east edge of James' Island, which seems to extend from the bay on the north to Lighthouse Inlet on the south. At the extreme northern end of the line is Battery Simpkins, which has taken an active part in the defence of the island. With that single exception, the remaining batteries composing the line, have not merited the name of batteries. A few guns, the number certainly not exceeding half-a-dozen, have been noted by the flash emitted; but the projectiles failed to reach even our left battery. It is supposed that along the southern portion of the line field pieces have been distributed which would indicate the work to be of a defensive character, although it could be readily used for offensive purposes. The enemy has evidently concentrated his heavy ordnance at the northern end of the island, with a view of turning it upon the fleet in case that branch of the service should exhibit the astounding temerity of advancing within range.

The rebel works on Sullivan's Island have been silent for some time. It cannot be doubted that all the damage done to the works by the iron-clads two weeks ago has been thoroughly repaired, and if another attack should be made it will only be an attempt to achieve that which was once gained. It is useless to deny the immense advantage secured by the rebels since the last attack on the Sullivan's Island batteries. They have not been molested for a moment in their work of strengthening and building, and if every little mole-hill is not converted into a bastion ere this, it is not because time and opportunity interfered with the execution of the design. Fort Moultrie is probably stronger to-day than it was before the attack, for the simple reason that it has been let alone too long.

Up to this moment, Forts Pinckney and Ripley have taken a very modest part in the proceedings. Neither of the works seems to be supplied with guns of sufficient calibre to seriously damage an object beyond the inner harbor. On the night the navy expedition attempted to occupy Sumter, they fired upon that work, as they did also a few nights preceding that event on a steamer which happened to contain a number of rebels. It is clearly the object of the enemy to reserve the fire of both forts for anything that may occur within short range of their guns.

Dilapidated Sumter still continues to be an object of interest, not on account of what it can do, but what it has done. It is garrisoned by a small force, who keep a vigilant watch on all sides, day and night, lest another attempt should be made to scale its crumbling walls. As far as can be learned, it is not intended by the rebels to hold the fort against a powerful and determined effort to seize it, but, when the time comes, to slip away, and then test the ability of our own forces to hold it, by turning upon it all their available guns. The impossibility of our occupying a work which would be the prominent object of attack from all quarters was conceded long ago, and it is not likely Sumter will be in our possession till the batteries on Sullivan's Island have been silenced and taken.

The rebel ram which lies just off the piers of Charleston does not present an imposing appearance by any means, viewing it from Fort Gregg. A small dark mass, rising a few feet above the surface of the water, is all that is visible. Its position is seldom changed, and it will evidently remain in snug quarters so long as the iron-clads are within sight. It is believed by the more sanguine rebels that this single ram will be able to cope successfully with the entire iron-clad fleet when past Sumter. Per contra, our naval officers do not hesitate to assert that one monitor can sink the ram in about fifteen minutes. But as it would be quite beyond the reach of expectation to look for a practical solution of this naval problem, each party will have the privilege of enjoying undisturbed, for an indefinite period of time, his own cherished opinion.

A Salute from the Ironsides—A Grand Review—The Colored Brigade—Gen. Gillmore and Admiral Dahlgren—Casualties.

MORRIS ISLAND, S. C., Friday, Sept. 25, 1863.

The only event of interest that occurred last Wednesday was the firing of a salute from the Ironsides in honor of Maj.-Gen. GILLMORE. Both the army and navy here acknowledge, in an appropriate manner, the consideration bestowed by the President on that able and successful engineer.

Yesterday, for the first time since the forces have been on the island, a grand review of the entire division was ordered. The ceremony took place on the beach at 10 A. M., that being the hour of low tide. In fact, there was but little choice as to the time of day the affair should come off, for the reason that the water at high tide completely submerges the beach close up to the camps. The line was formed in double column, and extended a distance of two miles, the artillery occupying a position on the extreme left. The general features of the review were the same as witnessed in every similar review. The men presented an excellent appearance, and performed the various evolutions with that celerity and accuracy which betokens discipline and efficiency. One brigade—the colored troops—commanded by Col. M. S. LITTLEFIELD, deserves special mention for their unexceptionable military conduct. Never before have the colored soldiers in the Department of the South been formed in brigade, and placed in line as such with the remainder of the column, when reviewed in a body. They handled their muskets and obeyed the marching and step orders in a manner not inferior in the least degree to any brigade of white soldiers on parade. It speaks well for the men themselves, and it reflects more than ordinary credit upon the officers in charge that this brigade is capable of acquitting itself so commendably. To Col. LITTLEFIELD, who has labored assiduously to produce this wished-for result, and who has on several occasions given evidence of his patriotism and fidelity, a full share of praise should be awarded. Like all reviews of any importance, this one was tedious to the spectator, who has nothing else to do but gaze. It is no easy matter to stand three hours watching a column of troops go through the ceremony of a review. For the participants, who are bound by military rule to observe strict military decorum, the task is much more difficult, which is still increased when another hour is added to the time, as it was on this occasion. The review, as will doubtless be supposed, was by Gen. GILLMORE, accompanied by Brig.-Gen. TERRY, the Commandant of the Post, and the several staff officers of each. When arriving at the head of the column, Gen. GILLMORE was saluted by the artillery with thirteen rounds. The reviewing party then rode down the line in front, returned on the opposite side, and took a position a little to the left of the centre, when the entire mass of troops passed by, and marched, each regiment to its respective quarters. Thus ended the largest and most brilliant review ever witnessed in the Department.

An impression having gained considerable ground in the North to the effect that Gen. GILLMORE and Admiral DAHLGREN are and have been at variance in regard to the matter of prosecuting military operations before Charleston, it may be well to state on the best authority that no foundation exists for such a belief. Both parties well understood before embarking on the expedition the work each was expected to perform. That the capture of Morris Island and the reduction of Fort Sumter ended the programme laid out for Gen. GILLMORE is freely admitted by all concerned. A correspondence passed some time ago between the two commanders relative to the exact condition of Sumter, Gen. GILLMORE maintaining that the fort was practically and effectually silenced, while Admiral DAHLGREN entertained a suspicion that the structure contained guns in working order on the channel side. Although this difference of opinion existed, the parties expressed their views in terms plain but free from all animosity. By request of Admiral DAHLGREN, Gen. GILLMORE ordered that the land batteries should be again turned on Sumter, the firing to be continued for one day. The bombardment was accordingly reopened, but revealed no new results. Since then the navy has not had occasion to operate directly with the army,—a circumstance which prevents the interest of the one from conflicting with that of the other, and favors the supposition that the friendly relations between the commanding officers are not in any way impaired.

Quite a number of civilians have suddenly made their appearance on this island.

THE RAMS.

THE EMANCIPATION SOCIETY TO EARL RUSSELL.

The Emancipation Society has addressed the following letter to Earl RUSSELL, as a rejoinder to his reply to their first remonstrance:

MY LORD: The Executive Committee of the Emancipation Society have carefully considered the reply of your Lordship to the memorial relative to the steam rams for the Confederates in course of being fitted out in the Mersey.

The subsequent very satisfactory action of Government, in causing the vessels to be detained pending investigation, absolves the Committee from the necessity of referring to that portion of the reply which related to the difficulty of obtaining evidence to justify the Government in enforcing the Foreign Enlistment Act, further than to say if any such difficulty exists, it is one to be overcome by the officials of the crown, and not by private citizens.

The Committee would further venture to remind your Lordship that while the Foreign Enlistment Act is directed against those British subjects who unauthorizedly equip such ships, the crown is not fettered by any statute in dealing with the foreign belligerent who attempts to use our ports in a manner calculated to infringe the neutrality proclaimed by Her Majesty.

The Committee further hope that your Lordship will not overlook the fact that vessels similar to those in the Mersey are being fitted out in the Clyde for the same destination.

The Confederate vessel Japan, now called the Georgia, left that river after the Alexandra was seized at Liverpool, and immediately commenced the disgraceful career of burning merchant vessels on the high seas—a proceeding which, your Lordship is aware, is utterly opposed to the international laws regulating maritime warfare. The persons responsible for that vessel must have obtained a false clearance from the Customs officials; and the Committee would express a hope that the Government will give such instructions to the officials at all the ports as in future effectually to prevent these evasions of the law, and of the Queen's proclamation of neutrality, by Her Majesty's subjects, whether in England or Scotland.

We have the honor to be, your Lordship's most obedient servants, WILLIAM EVANS, Chairman.

EARL RUSSELL'S REPLY TO THE EMANCIPATION SOCIETY.

The following reply to the memorial forwarded to Earl RUSSELL by the President of the Union and Emancipation Society has been received from the Foreign Office:

FOREIGN OFFICE, Sept. 14, 1863.

SIR: I am directed by Earl RUSSELL to state to you, in reply to your memorial of the 1st inst., that Her Majesty's Government have long had their attention turned to the question of building and fitting vessels of war for the so-called Confederate States, and the subject will continue to receive their anxious consideration.

I am, Sir, your most obedient humble servant,
E. HAMMOND.

THE FLORIDA.

The Paris Moniteur, of the 16th, says:

"The steamer Florida is not a privateer, as was believed. She forms part of the military marine of the Confederate States, and her officers are furnished with regular commissions. The Florida has all the character of an ordinary vessel-of-war."

DESTITUTION OF THE FLORIDA'S CREW.

The Liverpool Post, of the 16th, says:

"The crew of the Florida are now in Liverpool. They are 95 in number, and are nearly all in a great state of destitution. The paragraphs in the pro-Confederate papers, stating that immense sums as wages and prize-money were paid to them, were pure fabrications. Many of the men are Irishmen, all fine, athletic fellows, full of determination. They were originally taken from the Confederate army, and, according to their statements, pressed on board. On their arrival at Brest they asked for wages, for, during eighteen months, they received only $10 each. There was no money forthcoming, and, being in a neutral port, they were bold in their demands. Capt. MAFFIT, they say, then charged them with mutiny, put some of them in irons, but ultimately discharged them all. Before discharging them he gave each an acknowledgment for sums varying from $100 to $130. The order was signed by Paymaster DAVIS and Commander MAFFIT. This money they were to receive from Messrs. FRASER & Co., Liverpool, and they were accompanied by an officer who paid their passage. On arriving in Liverpool Messrs. FRASER & Co. repudiated the claim. The officer who accompanied them had a letter to Capt. BULLOCK, but had been unable to see the Captain. The men are in great distress and are full of anger with every party concerned. They even threaten to go back to Brest and burn the Florida. They had better not."

THE FRENCH PAMPHLET.

From the Paris Correspondence of the London Herald.

A work from the pen of MICHEL CHEVALIER, the celebrated political economist, entitled La Mexique, is the conversation of the day. He visited that country in 1844. It is scarcely to be called a political work. It embraces the natural history and the original conquest of Mexico, and the early civilization of the people, as far as can be learnt from Spanish historians. His own observations are, however, the more interesting portion of the book.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

The Paris correspondent of the London Morning Post learns that it is not the intention of the Government at Washington to throw any difficulty in the way of French schemes in Mexico, but it is disposed quietly to watch events.

The Star's Paris correspondent mentions as a rumor that the new Emperor of Mexico has, in obedience to the instructions of his French ally, recognized the Confederate States. It may, however, be remarked that until the arrival of the deputation from Mexico with the offer of the crown and its formal acceptance by the Archduke MAXIMILIAN, such an act would be premature.

THE POLISH QUESTION.

The Russian replies to the notes of the Western Powers indicate that the Czar remains immovable on the Polish question.

A Paris telegram says:

"The Russian reply to the French note is conceived in even more courteous terms than the previous one, and expresses sentiments favorable to the good relations existing between France and Russia."

Prince GORTSCHAKOFF concludes his dispatch in a manner which precludes an anticipation of an early resumption of the discussion between Russia and the three Powers. It is believed that the dispatch in no way changes the situation of affairs.

The Nord says that in the note maintaining the necessity for the pacification of Poland before the carrying out of any reforms, Prince GORTSCHAKOFF does not enter into long explanations, in order not to embitter the discussion. He states that Russia agrees to the six points, and will do all in her power to solve the question which is a source of misunderstanding between the Cabinets.

A Vienna dispatch says: "The reply of Prince GORTSCHAKOFF to the Austrian note on the Polish question is brief, and announces a more detailed memorandum will follow. Prince GORTSCHAKOFF considers the six points to have been settled by the previous declaration of Russia. He gratefully acknowledges the pacific sentiments displayed in the Austrian note, and shares Austria's wishes for the welfare of Poland. Prince GORTSCHAKOFF regrets, however, that the expectations based on the diplomatic discussions and their results had not been fulfilled, and that the differences of opinion had not been removed. Prince GORTSCHAKOFF thinks, therefore, that a further prolongation of these discussions appears superfluous. He finally states that Russia assumes the full responsibility of her acts."

According to a Cracow dispatch, engagements resulting in favor of the insurgents took place on the 3d inst. at Bambrow, in the Government of Augustowa; on the 4th at Belechow, in Podola; and on the 6th at Garnow, in Wogwodschaft of Plock.

Count OSTROWSKI, son of the Minister of the Interior, had been arrested, and is said to have been condemned to transportation to Siberia.

LONDON, Thursday, Sept. 17.

REPRESENTATION OF TAMWORTH.

Hon. HENRY COWPER comes forward as a supporter of Lord PALMERSTON's Government, and expresses his belief that the wisdom, skill and moderation with which he and his colleagues have conducted public affairs in times of difficulty have contributed to the peace and prosperity which we enjoy, and have deserved well of the country; and with respect to America, he says that while it is not a time to depart from the neutrality we have observed, the Government should resist any encroachments on the rights and observances of international law.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL NEWS.

From the Times City Article: "The funds yesterday were inactive, but with a favorable tendency in all other securities. The applications for discount at the Bank were rather numerous, and the rates in the open market are now likely to be maintained till the end of the month."

The Daily News says: "In the discount market yesterday, little or no business was transacted below 4 ⅜ cent. The Confederate loan continues to improve. The closing quotation was 26 a 24 discount, being 1 ⅜ cent. higher."

The Herald says although the foreign stock settlement yesterday was one of the heaviest on record, it passed over in a satisfactory manner and without any difficulty. It is stated that six or seven proposals by the principal French capitalists, including the Credit Mobilier and the International Finance Company have been sent into the Minister of Finance at Paris to arrange the proposed loan for Mexico.

AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

The New-York correspondent of the Times endeavors to account for the feeling of distrust which had arisen in the New-York money market at the beginning of the month. It is partly ascribed to Mr. CHASE having come into the market as a borrower of fifty millions of dollars to pay the arrears due to the army and navy, and this operation must be repeated in quick succession if the war is to be pushed forward. The non-success of the Federals at Charleston is aggravated by the fact that their attempts to wreak vengeance on South Carolina have already cost the Federal Government the sum of five hundred millions of dollars, which is 300 per cent. more than the value of the fee simple of all Charleston, and it is known that the cost of acquiring Vicksburgh was not less than $40,000,000.

Bankers, brokers and merchants foresee the necessity of further issues of paper, and know that such issues end in a collapse. The harvests in Europe being good, New-York importations will this year have to be balanced, not with corn and flour, as in other times, but with gold. Another source of disquiet is the apprehension that Gen. LEE will take advantage of the depletion of the Army of the Potomac, many thousands of whose veterans are doing unnecessary duty in the quasi-hostile occupation of the City of New-York, to flank Gen. MEADE and march upon Washington. Besides this, the letter from Mr. LINCOLN to the Springfield Convention puts an extinguisher upon the hopes of peace by showing that, as long as he is President, he will listen to no terms from the South except unconditional surrender. The Times correspondent asserts that out of every 100 substitutes who offer themselves for the army, not 3 are Americans, but mainly Irish and Germans.

The Prince and Princess of Wales will leave Scotland next week for Sandringham.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

THE BURNING OF THE BAKERY IN FULTON-STREET.—The investigation in this case was resumed yesterday morning before Justice DOWLING at the Tombs. Mary Ann Mathews, John Middleton, Nathaniel G. Sayles, Charles Macy, Policeman John Kehoe, David Board and Mary Ann Winters were examined at length on the part of Mr. Wilson and those of his employes who are charged with having set fire to the bakery. The gist of their evidence was, that at the time Mrs. Larkin, the complainant, says the building was fired by the men, the latter were all away from that place, and were not there during the day or evening in question. In fact it would seem, if their testimony is to be believed—and the witnesses are all of a respectable character—a perfect alibi as to each and every one of them has been fully established. Mr. Sayles, whose place of business was directly opposite the bakery, testified that he had often heard Mrs. Larkin use the most abusive language to Mr. Wilson, calling him the murderer of her husband, and creating a great disturbance in the street. Mrs. Larkin was recalled, but she testified to nothing which tended to strengthen her case, or which threw any light on the transaction. The examination will be resumed on Friday morning next at the same place.

CONVENTION OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—The Annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of New-York, will assemble to-day, at 10 o'clock A. M., in St. John's Chapel, Varick-street. The religious services will be conducted by the Bishop, assisted by a number of the clergy. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. TYNG, Rector of St. George's, Stuyvesant-square. The Bishop's annual address is usually delivered on the second day of the session, soon after the commencement of the business of the day. This evening there will be a full musical service at Trinity Chapel, at 7 o'clock, by the Church Choir Union. Mr. CUTTER, the organist of Trinity Church, takes the organ, and the choir of Trinity will lead in the responses. There will be no sermon. A collection will be made, in aid of the funds of the Union.

THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.—The number that report in this district has been diminished to such an extent that it ceases to be an object of public interest, only three having appeared yesterday. The principal work of the Board of Enrollment is confined to the acceptance of substitutes, about a dozen of whom are daily sent to the military rendezvous at Riker's Island. Yesterday, the Surgeon, Dr. WOODWARD, extracted a rifle ball from a substitute, which he received in the battle of Cross Keys. He was otherwise sound, and, after operation, went with his comrades to the Island.

ROBBED BY A WOMAN.—EDWARD FLANAGAN, of No. 198 Mott-street, appeared yesterday before Justice QUACKENBUSH, at the Jefferson Police Court, and made a complaint against ALICE MCDONALD, whom he charges with having robbed him of the sum of $42 in Treasury notes at a house in Sullivan-street. The money was not recovered. Officer VAN ORDEN, of the Eighth Precinct, arrested ALICE, and Justice QUACKENBUSH committed her in default of $500 bail.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—DAVID AUSTEN, Esq., an old resident of this City, who formerly was one of our leading auctioneers, and a gentleman very generally esteemed, died on Monday at Clifton, Staten Island. He was 80 years of age. His funeral will take place at 10 A. M. to-day, at Grace Church.

WILL OF REV. DR. BERRIAN.—The hearing of the case of this will was commenced yesterday before the Surrogate, but was adjourned for one week, in order to enable the parties to settle, if possible, the matter without litigation.

LAUNCH OF A STEAMSHIP.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamship (screw) Monterey will be launched from Messrs. WEBB & BELL's yard, at Greenpoint, on Thursday, Oct. 1, at half-past 11 o'clock.

ARRIVAL OF REBEL OFFICERS.—Fifty paroled rebel officers arrived yesterday from New-Orleans, by the steamer Clinton. The highest officer is Col. D. W. SHANNON. They were taken prisoners at Port Hudson.

To the Pursers of the steamships Arago, Creole, Morning Star, Constitution, Albany, Clinton, N. P. Banks and Ellen S. Terry we are under obligations for the prompt delivery of our files and correspondence.

THE TRADE BOOK SALE.—The sale still continues with its full attendance and spirited bidding. There is no diminution of either, and thus far it has been one of the most satisfactory sales ever held.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The arrival of the steamship Arago, from Charleston Bar on the morning of the 26th inst., puts us in possession of our correspondence from Morris Island and Port Royal to that date. Our troops on Morris Island still continued most sedulously engaged in the construction of batteries and mounting of siege guns, with the object of attacking Charleston. The prosecution of this work, though not seriously retarded, was yet difficult of accomplishment on account of the severe fire to which the working parties are subjected by the batteries on James and Sullivan's Islands. The naval vessels still maintained a position of dignified inactivity, having failed to make an offensive movement since the attack on Fort Moultrie and the Sullivan Island batteries three weeks ago, and the damage inflicted upon that occasion is likely ere this to have been thoroughly repaired. There had been great rejoicing in the Department of the South at the news of Gen. Gillmore's promotion to the double stars of a Major-General.

The arrival of the steamers Clinton and Morning Star, from New-Orleans, puts us in possession of dates from that City to the 22d inst. The letters of our correspondents, with such extracts as we can print from the journals, will be found highly interesting.

It is positively asserted in a St. Louis dispatch that Kansas is to be made a separate Military Department, under Gen. Curtis.

The rebels in Arkansas, under Kirby Smith, are thought to have suffered a fatal blow by the explosion of their powder-mill at Arkadelphia, the headquarters of their forces in that State.

A state of terror prevails in Platte and Clinton Counties, Mo., in consequence of a band of Secessionists, under Col. Moss, attempting to disarm the loyal enrolled militia. Several Union men had been killed.

Another female bread riot occurred in Mobile on the 4th of September. The Seventeenth Alabama regiment was ordered by Gen. Maury to put down the disturbance, but they refused to do duty. The Mobile cadets then tried their hands, and were defeated and forced to fly by the women. Peaceable measures finally quieted the famine-stricken females. The rioters openly proclaimed their determination, if some means were not rapidly devised to relieve their sufferings or to stop the war, to burn the whole city.

FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival of the steamship City of Washington from Liverpool on the 16th inst. and Queenstown on the 17th, we have one day's later news from Europe. Our files furnish us with additional news of interest. It now appears that that the Florida's crew, instead of being paid off at Brest and going to Liverpool to join a new pirate vessel, deserted Maffit in dudgeon because of his failure to pay them. The Post states that they are both indignant and destitute, and threaten vengeance. The London Star's Paris correspondence announces the rumored recognition of the South by the Mexican Emperor in obedience to the behests of Louis Napoleon. There is little change in Commercial and Financial matters to note.

GENERAL NEWS.

At the meeting of the Supervisors, yesterday, a resolution was adopted asking the opinion of the Corporation Counsel as to the liability of the County to the holders of mortgages on real or personal estate destroyed by riot, and whether the Board have the right to make the waiver of the three months' limitation for the commencement of suits for damages sustained by the riot, which they made at the previous meeting. Mr. Purdy said if the waiver was legal, it would save to the county an expense of at least $100,000 on suits already commenced. The subject of paying Chas. W. Baker's bill of $900 for stationery furnished to the County Clerk, without requisition upon the Board, was again discussed, and was at last laid over till there shall be a full meeting. Adjourned to Tuesday next, at 2 o'clock P. M.

The tugboat Leviathan, lying at the Southwest Pass of the Mississippi River, was boarded by a party of men from the shore, on the night of the 21st inst., and stolen from under the guns of the United States steamer De Soto. The theft was not discovered until after the tug had got several miles out in the Gulf, when a pursuit was ordered, and a few hours' chase resulted in the capture of the fugitive. The enterprising pirates who attempted this daring piece of confiscation were brought back in irons.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat writes from Little Rock that two regiments of loyal citizens have been raised for the federal army, and the third is now being organized. Many recruits have also been obtained for regiments from other States. The citizens, many of whom have been hid in the woods and mountains a year and a half, throng the streets daily by hundreds. They are welcomed to the protection of the old flag. It was reported at Helena, Ark., a few days ago, that Gen. Steele was falling back to that place, having left a garrison at Little Rock.

A special dispatch to the Louisville Journal, dated Nashville, Sept. 25, states that the rebels, probably guerrillas, had been repulsed with some loss in an attack on Shelbyville.

Our losses in officers of Rosecrans' army, so far as they have come to hand, amount to one Brigadier-General, six Colonels, two Majors, five Captains, and eight Lieutenants killed, and Brig.-Gen. J. C. Starkweather, Brig.-Gen. John H. King, and 268 other officers wounded.

A San Francisco telegram, dated on Monday, announces the utter wreck of the Russian steam corvette Novich, last from Hakodadi, on Point Keys, at the northern entrance of the harbor. All the officers and crew were saved. The telegram also brings information of the defeat of an English naval vessel at Kagossinia, Japan, whither it had gone to demand the surrender of some native murderers.

The prize schooners Carmita and Artist were sold in Philadelphia on Monday by order of the United States Marshal, together with their cargoes. The Carmita brought $2,150, and the Artist $2,900. The cargo of the Carmita consisted of 171 bales of cotton, which brought 70½ cents per pound, with the exception of 10 bales, which were sold at 70 cents per pound. The cargo of the Artist consisted of dry goods, liquors, rope, nails, &c., which brought an aggregate of $3,144 50.

A new loyal paper has been started in New-Orleans. The fact that it bears the name of the Times, and that in typography it strongly resembles the New-York journal from which it takes its name, certainly establishes the good taste of its publisher and promises a brilliant future for this young journal. Its editorials are ably written and its general "make-up" admirable.

Mercantile letters from Port au Platte, St. Domingo (received in Boston, yesterday), state that [illegible] was bombarded by a Spanish vessel-of-war as before reported. A bombardment had been threatened, and the foreign residents had in consequence taken refuge on shipboard, but no demonstration had been made at last accounts. There had been a fight in the vicinity of the city between the Dominicans and Spaniards, the loss on both sides being about one hundred. Letters represent the country to be in a bad condition.

There was a further rise of 2½ per cent in Gold, yesterday, to 142¾@143¼ per cent. Exchange 158 per cent. The Stock Market was firm and generally higher on the Railways. Money easy.

Breadstuffs were actively sought after yesterday, and prices were decidedly higher early in the day, though somewhat depressed toward the close. Provisions were selling more freely, and sellers had any existing advantage. Groceries, Oils, Hay, Seeds, Salt, Spices, Wool, Tallow, Skins, Leather, Metals and Earthenware were in fair demand. Cotton was in lively request, at advanced rates. A moderate business was transacted in Fish, Fruit, Hemp, Hides, Hops, Laths, Lime and Whisky—the latter article closing a trifle cheaper. Freights were brisker.

The Live Stock markets are crowded with animals, including 7,051 beeves, 105 milch cows, 694 calves, 18,132 sheep, and 20,244 hogs, making a total of 46,121 animals for New-Yorkers to consume in a week. Most of the cattle and sheep were sold, but several thousand hogs are still waiting purchasers. Beef cattle are in larger supply than ever before, exceeding the heavy receipts of a fortnight ago. What becomes of them is the mystery just now. Taking out 200 for the army, and the same number left unsold, and we have 6,650 to be consumed at home, barring those packed down. Prices of good cattle ruled nearly as high as one week ago, but poor stock sold ½c. lower before the market closed. The best animals brought 11c. ₩ lb., live weight; fair to good stock, 9c.@10c.; and poor run all the way down to 7c., and even 6c. for some of the scallawags, not a few of which were on sale. At an average of 9c. ₩ lb., and calling the bullocks to dress 7 cwt., we have near $5,000,000 for beef in a single week.... Sheep are abundant and lower, selling at 5c.@5½c. for good stock—a few at 5½c. Some selected lots brought 6c. Monday, but they have since declined.... Live hogs are in excess of all wants, and are ½c. lower. Prime fat corn-fed hogs command 5½c.@5¾c.

First Principles in Military Science.

There appears to be little doubt that Rosecrans' check has been due to his being assailed by a vastly superior force, and this superiority of force the rebels owed, as we now know, to the facility with which they are able to hurry troops from one point of their frontier to another—in other words, to their possession of what is now so well known to the public as "interior lines." He started from Murfreesboro with several weighty disadvantages, which grew in magnitude as he progressed. He was penetrating a difficult country, and that country the enemy's; he was far from his base of supplies, and in case of reverse had to look hundreds of miles for succor or shelter. In short, he was an invader, and an invader who had every reason to expect a tenacious resistance, all the more tenacious the further he penetrated. There was, therefore, every conceivable reason for his advancing in at least as strong force as any that there was even a possibility of his finding opposed to him on the road. In fact, all the rules that the military experience of ages has prescribed for the conduct of invasions required that he should have run no risk of encountering any body of troops superior to his own.

The public has therefore learned with astonishment that the very first time he came in contact with Bragg, ten miles outside Chattanooga, he found himself far outnumbered, and was compelled to suspend his march, after a fierce engagement. And this astonishment is perfectly reasonable, inasmuch as the object of his onward movement was not simply the possession of Chattanooga, but the capture of Atlanta, and with it the whole system of Southern Railroad communication—the subjugation of the whole State of Georgia, the isolation of South Carolina and the "turning" of Virginia and North Carolina. If this was not the object of the movement, it was either an idle promenade or a great waste of human life; and if this was its object, its stoppage at the very outset, by a superior force, proves it to have been commenced with great want of forethought as well as inadequate means.

It is useless to tell us, in reply to this, that the rebels, having possession of the "interior lines," are able to concentrate troops on any given point with greater rapidity than we are. This might have furnished an excuse for such checks as Chickamauga, at the beginning of the war when the rebel batteries were all "masked," and when Fire Zouaves climbed up on the backs of the rebel cavalry horses, at full gallop, and remorsely cut the throats of their riders. But the nature and value of "interior lines" are now so well known, and the possession of them by the rebels is so notorious, that it is as absurd for the War Department or the Generals in the field to omit this circumstance from their calculations in preparing for any operation, as to take no count of the rebel cavalry or artillery, or of the badness of the roads, or thickness of the woods. The problem we have to solve is, not how to defeat the rebels under certain conditions, but how to defeat them under the conditions that actually exist, and with the advantages that they actually possess. They have the "interior lines," just as they have cotton to raise money on, and slaves to do their hard work, and a forest-covered and thinly settled country to manœuvre in. It is one of the things they have to count on, just as we have a large population, plenty of money and a powerful navy; and when we encounter them there is no more justification for our not being prepared for this than for their bullets or their torpedoes.

If we have learnt anything from the war, it is that there is no way of meeting concentration of forces on the rebel side, but by concentration of forces on ours. We have many times, since the commencement of the struggle, been overwhelmed precisely in the same manner that Rosecrans has been overwhelmed at Chickamauga, and in each case we have been forced to recover our ground after the battle by bringing up the forces which ought to have been brought before it. One tithe of the activity which is displayed in "forwarding troops" after we have met with a reverse, would, if displayed before the action takes place, put a very different complexion on our affairs. Even if these checks did not postpone the great issue, and did not increase the risk of foreign complications, we have not, we trust, yet become so hardened to the horrors of war that the lives of thousands of brave men furnish no argument in favor of forethought and caution.

The Union Abroad.

Our Summer victories over the rebels produced, to some extent, the same effect in Europe that they did in this country. They increased the fame of the Union armies, magnified the National power, elevated the National prospects, and strengthened the general faith in our ultimate success. They showed the instability of the Confederacy, and its military as well as its political failure—they depressed the Confederate loan, and changed the exultation of Confederate sympathizers into despair. Those who sustained the Confederacy because of its successful display of power, now sustained the Union, because it showed itself possessed of still greater power. Those who had been against us because they thought the job we had undertaken an impossible one, now turned in our favor when they saw that it was not only possible but well nigh accomplishment. Those who were demanding the immediate recognition of the Confederacy, were now willing to wait and see whether the Confederacy would remain in condition to be recognized. Judging from the tone of the English Press, and by private letters, we should say that the Union cause never stood so well abroad, as the United States certainly were never treated with so much fairness, as during the three months past. It is true that we have had the ram controversy with England; but the rams were contracted for and mainly built before the close of July, and even in this matter the English Government, by latest advices, seems disposed to deal justly.

The inference from these facts is, that we may expect fair treatment from Europe, not on account of the justness of our cause—that we may expect just dealing in all questions that may arise, not on account of the abstract right of our claims—but simply, in each case, on the ground that we have strength to sustain the National authority, and power and spirit to enforce the National demands.

We do not propose to find fault with this state of things, as fault-finding would not rectify it. We do not propose to preach moral truths or expound the decalogue to foreign kings, cabinets and armies, for they will go on their way despite them. But there is a vital and fundamental truth in this matter which our own people and Government will learn for all time from the successive developments that have taken place during the course of this war. Our security lies in being strong as well as just, in displaying courage and power as well as the force of argument.

The military occurrences of the last few weeks have had little effect in depressing the public spirit in this country, and little in altering the military situation. But we expect they will be made much of in Europe, and that the Union cause there will be considerably set back by them. The repulse from Texas, the retreat of Rosecrans, the suspension of operations against Charleston, the inactivity of the Army of the Potomac, will be dwelt upon as reversing the tide of our success and darkening the prospects of the Union. The Confederate agents and sympathizers will push their schemes with renewed activity, and the Confederate loan will "have an upward tendency." And this condition of things will only be altered by renewed successes on our part—by Rosecrans pushing down to Atlanta, and by our armies everywhere continuing to deal such blows to the rebels as we dealt them in July.

The Russian Squadron—Eastern Russia—Russian Commerce.

The Russian Squadron of five vessels, now lying in the mouth of the North River, carry about 170 guns, and are manned by about 2,400 men. There is no distinctive class known as marines in the Russian navy; but every man on board a Russian vessel-of-war is taught and drilled in the use of a musket, as well as in the use of the ship's guns, or in the special duties of seagoing. A Russian naval squadron goes always prepared to make a descent on land, to assault and carry a fort by storm, or do any other work that a land force may attempt. It will be perceived, therefore, that our present visitors compose an efficient and formidable force, quite able to take care of themselves under any contingencies likely to happen to them.

Two other vessels—corvettes—belonging to the squadron of Admiral Lisovsky, have not yet reached this port, but they are expected presently; and it is not improbable that two or three other vessels of the Czar may, before long, join the company of those here. We shall, perhaps, before Winter sets in, have in our harbor a Russian fleet numbering ten vessels, carrving nearly 300 guns and 5,000 men, all musket-bearing marines.

The squadron of Admiral Lisovsky sailed from Cronstadt about two months ago, and its first vessel was fifty-six days in reaching its present mooring. The course sailed was along the north shore of England. The navigation of the Baltic becomes difficult after the middle of November, and, soon after, practically impossible. That is only six weeks or forty-two days hence. It is clear, therefore, that the squadron will make no effort to return to any Baltic port this season. It may seek other American ports, or spend the Winter cruising near the West India islands and drop down to Rio Janeiro, intending to appear eventually on the Pacific, and seek thence the northern seas of Asia, where Russia presents her true maritime front.

The Eastern or Asiatic portion of Russia, fronting on the Pacific Ocean, opposite to our own Pacific States and Territories, is of twice the extent of the European portion of the empire, and is believed to possess much of the mineral wealth that gives our own Pacific possessions their fabulous value, while the forest timber is far more abundant and valuable. The River Amoor flows from the southern confines of this great domain of Russia in a general eastern course, and pours its waters into the Pacific. This river is navigable for a distance of nearly two thousand miles inland, and is destined to be a stream surpassed only by our own Mississippi, perhaps, for the extent and value of the commerce borne on its bosom. American enterprise has already been exploring this distant region, and studying the navigation of this important river, looking to the wealth that will in future be gathered upon its banks. In 1856, Mr. Perry McDonough Collins was appointed by the United States Government, Commercial Agent at the Amoor River, with the approbation of the Russian Ambassador; and, going to Moscow, Mr. Collins started upon his journey overland through Eastern Russia, intending to come out to the Pacific Coast by way of the Amoor. He visited and studied the gold mines of Siberia, made researches into the manners and customs, wants and resources, of the interior tribes of Siberia, sought the Capital of that country, and found in Lieut.-Gen. Mouravieff, its Governor, a highly polished officer, who considered his country with the affection of a patriot and prescience of a statesman. He was handsomely entertained by the Governor in the Capital, Irkutsk; given every encouragement in regard to the proposed introduction of American enterprise and commerce into the heart of Eastern Russia, by way of the Amoor River, and finally was passed with all honors to the head waters of that great river, which he followed in its long and majestic flow to the sea. Mr. Collins published in 1860, his observations on this long and deeply interesting journey, and the book will doubtless be more read now than it hitherto has been. He grows eloquent over the Amoor River, speaking of it as "rolling in unbroken and majestic course for 2,500 miles toward the rising sun and mild waters of the Pacific. Upon this generous river," he continues, "shall float navies more powerful than those of Tarshish; mines shall be found upon its shores more rich than those of Ophir, and the timbers of its forests more precious than the Almagim of Scripture; a mighty nation shall rise upon its banks and within its valleys, and at its mouth shall arise a vast city, wherein shall congregate the merchant princes of the earth, seeking the trade of millions of people."

There may be rhapsody in this picture, but there is enough reality, no doubt, to stimulate to new and successful efforts for close commercial relations between our Pacific States and the interior of Western Russia, by way of the River Amoor. It may be remembered that a steamboat was built in New-York, in 1857, for the navigation of the River Amoor, and that it successfully ascended that stream. It is, no doubt, by the line of this future highway of commerce, that our Minister at St. Petersburg, Mr. C. M. Clay, has obtained his telegraph charter that he speaks of in a letter that has recently been published.

All these matters will be more carefully looked into now than before the advent of the Russian war-vessels in New-York Bay, and will give rise to speculations varying according to the interests, temperaments or proclivities of people.

The Union Ratification Meeting this Evening.

The great Union Ratification Meeting takes place at Cooper Institute this evening, and all loyal men, without distinction of party, are expected to be present. It will undoubtedly be an immense demonstration of fidelity to the country, and to the Government. Very many prominent speakers will be present. The large hall and the stands outside will be plentifully and satisfactorily supplied with them. Let there be a general rally and such a demonstration as will give renewed assurance of the "good time coming," in November, when the Union vote will sweep the State by its thousands of majority.

Legal Tender Valid.

From the Albany Evening Journal of Yesterday.

The Court of Appeals, at the opening of the session this morning, announced its decision in the cases involving the validity of the notes issued by the National Government as a "legal tender" in the redemption of the circulating notes of State Banks, and in the payment of obligations arising on contracts.

In the case of the Metropolitan Bank and others, respondents, vs. H. H. Van Dyck, appellant, the judgment of the Supreme Court of this District (which was in favor of "legal tender") was affirmed while that of the Supreme Court of New-York, in the Roosevelt case, was reversed.

In the former case, the question involved was, whether "legal tender notes" were equivalent to specie, under the Constitution and laws of this State, in the redemption of bank notes by the institutions issuing the same. In the other case the question arose on the reception of "legal tender" in discharge of a mortgage, executed before the enactment of the law of Congress authorizing the issue of such legal tender notes by the General Government.

The opinion of Judge Emott states succinctly the principles upon which the Court based its decision, Judges Davies, Wright, Balcom and Marvin also delivered opinions in one or the other of the two cases, sustaining the validity of the legal tender clause, in which Judge Rosecrans concurred. Chief Judge Denio delivered a contrary opinion, and Judge Selden also dissented.

Wallack's Theatre.

The season at this establishment commences to-night, and with it the fashionable world will enter upon its genuine and Metropolitan round of amusement for the Winter. Mr. Wallack has made ample and splended preparations for his patrons. He opens with a new play, and a house that has been completely renovated, regilt and redecorated. The scenery, dresses and appointments for the play, which is called "Rosedale, or the Rifle Ball," are entirely new, and will be on the liberal scale for which this house has become famous. That the patrons of the establishment are not behind hand is proved by the fact that the box-office, which opened on Monday morning at 8 o'clock, had to close at 10. In the short space of two hours every seat and box in the house had been sold out. Every one will, of course, be present to-night, and simply as an exhibition of brilliant and fashionable people, it will be an agreeable treat to a looker on.

THE EASTERN SHORE OF VIRGINIA.

Three Schooners Plundered by the Rebels.

A letter was received in this City yesterday which states that a rebel raid was made on several vessels in Watchaprigue Inlet, East Virginia, previous to the 23d inst. The schooner Ireland, Capt. Davis, the schooner John J. Houseman, (since picked up and taken into Newport,) Capt. Pearsall, were plundered, taken out to sea and set adrift.

The schooner Alexandria was also plundered and run on a sand-bar inside the inlet. The Government schooner Alliance, loaded with provisions and sutler stores, valued at $30,000, was also captured.

The crews of all the above vessels were put on board the Alexandria as prisoners. She was last seen off Sands' Shoals, bound South.

Admiral Farragut.

YONKERS, N. Y., Tuesday, Sept. 29.

Admiral Farragut will leave Hastings in the morning to attend the Union demonstration at the Cooper Institute Wednesday evening.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

"ALL QUIET."

"All is quiet in the front." The cars yesterday took to the army 800 conscripts.

REVIEW OF THE FIFTH CORPS.

A letter from the Army of the Potomac says Gen. Meade, accompanied by the Mexican General, Conzs, yesterday reviewed the Fifth corps. The weather was splendid, and the review passed off in a most satisfactory manner.

ARMY CORPS CONSOLIDATED.

The Twentieth and Twenty-first army corps have been consolidated, and will be called the Fourth corps. They are to be commanded by Maj.-Gen. Gordon Granger.

GENS. M'COOK AND CRITTENDEN.

The War Department has ordered a Court of Inquiry to investigate the conduct of Gens. McCook and Crittenden in the late battles near Chattanooga.

ARMY MATTERS.

The enforcement of the death penalty in the Army of the Potomac is rapidly decreasing the number of desertions. Conscripts and substitutes are arriving in considerable numbers, and also deserters, who are forwarded to their regiments for trial and punishment. No movements reported on the front to-day.

DESERTERS TAKE NOTICE.

Provost-Marshal-General Fry has perfected his arrangements for the arrest of deserters. Having a large number of deputies, in addition to the Provost-Marshals in all the Congressional Districts, the chances of escape are much diminished. The reward for the arrest of a deserter is increased to $30. It is determined to treat such parties with the utmost rigor, in order, if possible, to prevent the practice of desertion.

PAROLED PRISONERS ORDERED TO DUTY.

The rebels in their anxiety to raise troops to reinforce Bragg have violated the terms of the cartel in declaring Pemberton's 30,000 men exchanged, without giving formal notice to our Government. In view of this action of the rebel authorities our Government has declared all Union soldiers now in our paroled camps to be exchanged, and ordered them to their regiments for duty. The number of Union soldiers thus returned to duty is about twenty thousand, which still leaves a balance of ten thousand to our credit in future exchanges, exclusive of rebel prisoners now in our hands. All paroled Union prisoners, officers and men, absent from their camps with or without leave, are ordered to report immediately at the various parole camps.

THE TESTIMONIAL TO M'CLELLAN FORBIDDEN.

An order from the War Department vetoes effectually the proposed subscriptions for a testimonial to Gen. McClellan started in the Army of the Potomac. To bring the matter into ridicule, subscriptions were about being started for testimonials to Gens. McDowell, Burnside and Hooker by the friends of those officers; but an order from the Secretary of War rendered such counter-movements needless.

THE PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

A meeting of Pennsylvanians employed in the departments here was held to-night, at Willard's, to concert measures to aid the Union ticket in Pennsylvania at the coming election.

THE MISSOURI DELEGATION.

The Missouri delegation having prepared an address to the President, waited on him this morning, and he has fixed to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock, to receive them and consider the address.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

CAPTURES IN THE GULF.

Commodore Bell, commanding the Western Gulf blockading squadron, reports that on the 12th inst. the steamer Fox, captured by the rebels in April last, was chased into Mississippi Sound and burnt. At the same time another blockade-runner, called the Alabama, one of the river-boats from Mobile, was chased into Chandeleur Islands and captured. Of this capture the Commodore says: "On shore they have been deluded into the belief that the vessel captured is the privateer Alabama, and she may be so publicly announced."

A BLOCKADE RUNNER STRANDED.

The United States steamer Connecticut, Capt. Almy, reports that, on the 23d inst., she drove on shore and destroyed the Confederate steamer Phantom, loaded with arms, &c., intending to run the blockade at Wilmington. She was built in England and is supposed to have been intended for a privateer. The Connecticut chased her about four hours, and finding that she was about being captured, her officers ran her ashore, took to their boats and escaped.

THE COURT OF CLAIMS.

The United States Court of Claims will commence its October term next Monday. Its jurisdiction was enlarged by an act of the late Congress. A very large number of new claims have been filed, including the Floyd acceptances of Russell, Majors & Co., to the extent of $300,000. Judges Black, Curtis, Cushing and Broadhead, of St. Louis, are counsel in the case, which will be argued as a question of law. Many claims come from Louisiana, Virginia, and other States, for losses and depredations by the military.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE—THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

The twenty-first anniversary of the organization of the Sons of Temperance was celebrated here to-day. The procession, on reaching the White House, was invited to enter the East Room, which was nearly filled by the ladies and gentlemen participating in the ceremonies. President Lincoln, on entering, was enthusiastically applauded, and, in the course of his response to the address presented to him, said when he was a young man, long ago, before the Sons of Temperance, as an organization, had an existence, he, in an humble way, made temperance speeches, and he thought he might say, to this day, he had never, by his example, belied what he then said.

As to the suggestions for the purpose of the advancement of the cause of Temperance in the army, he could not now respond to them. To prevent intemperance in the army is even a great part of the rules and articles of war. It is a part of the law of the land, and was so, he presumed, long ago, to dismiss officers for drunkenness. He was not sure that, consistently with the public service, more can be done than has been done. All, therefore, that he could promise, was to have a copy of the address submitted to the principal Departments, and have it considered whether it contains any suggestions which will improve the cause of temperance and repress drunkenness in the army any better than it is already done. He thought the reasonable men of the world had long since agreed that intemperance was one of the greatest, if not the very greatest, of all the evils among mankind. That was not a matter of dispute. All men agreed that intemperance was a great curse, but differed about the cure. The suggestion that it existed to a great extent in the army was true. But whether it was a cause of defeat he knew not; but he did know that there was a good deal of it on the other side. Therefore, they had no right to beat us on that ground. [Laughter.]

The remarks of the President were listened to with great interest, and repeatedly interrupted by applause.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Wreck of a Russian Corvette—Reported Repulse of the English Fleet at Japan—Shipping Intelligence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, Sept. 28.

The Russian war steamer Novich, last from Hakodadi, was wrecked on the north entrance to this harbor on the night of the 26th. The officers and crew were saved.

They report that according to Japanese accounts, received at Hakodadi, Aug. 30, the British fleet had been repulsed from Kagosinia, where it went to demand, from Prince Satsuma, the surrender of Richardson's murderers. As the fleet entered the inner harbor, an armed Japanese decoy boat drew toward the shore, which was pursued, attacked, and speedily sunk. Masked batteries opened on the fleet from the shore, riddling the advance vessels, before they could get out of range. The Japanese claim to have disabled the greater portion of the fleet, and the balance retired from the contest.

The Hamburg bark George Sands, Fabius, from San Francisco, May 27, for Kong Kong, has been wrecked on the Crata Shoals; crew saved. She had on board $79,583 33 in specie on freight, and 2,500 bbls. of flour for the French in Cochin-China.

Arrived, steamer Brother Jonathan, bringing $260,000 in treasure, from British Columbia.

Arrived, bark Societa, (Hamburg,) Auerbach, from Hong Kong.

ORDER OF THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

Celebration of the Twenty-first Anniversary.

The programme accompanying the announcement that the Sons of Temperance would meet at the Cooper Institute last evening, to celebrate their twenty-first anniversary, attracted thither a concourse of people sufficient to fill the Hall to its utmost capacity. Not only were all the seats occupied, but every standing place in the aisles was appropriated. By far the larger portion of the audience was composed of ladies. Members of the various lodges were present, decorated with the emblems and honorary insignia of the Order. The officers and speakers, on coming upon the stage, were loudly applauded. The exercises were opened by singing the song, "Thrice Welcome, Brothers," after which an eloquent and impressive prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Temple, of New-Brunswick. The Chairman for the evening, Mr. S. L. Carleton, M. W. P., of Maine, thanking the audience for the honor they had done him in selecting him as their presiding officer, indulged in some reminiscences connected with the Society at the period of its earliest existence—of the one who, now no more, first presided over their deliberations, and who, he said, was ever faithful to their glorious motto, "Love, Purity and Fidelity," after which he introduced the Union Glee Club, who sang "Come, fill your goblets," a song which the audience, by their hearty cheering, seemed fully to appreciate. A compilation from the records of the National Division, giving the number of lodges now and at different former periods, and the prospects of the Order for the future, together with a statement of some of the benefits already flowing from it, was read by Mr. Stearns, at the close of which reading another song, "Our Glorious Order," was sung by the Club, many of the audience joining in the chorus. After a few pertinent remarks by an old member of the Order, Rev. Mr. Lathrop, of Connecticut, Mr. Barnum, who had been alluded to by the Chairman as one of the many good things that they had at their anniversary, responded to the loud calls of the audience, and made a few humorous and characteristic remarks, declaring that he was the great showman showing himself, as he had not arisen to make a speech, but only because there might be some in the audience who had never "seen Barnum." He was followed by Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, whose speech was brief and to the point, abounding in illustration and sentiment, and concluding with an eloquent and touching allusion to the present unhappy condition of our country, imploring his countrymen, each and all, not to give up the old ship. The concluding speech was made by Mr. Carswell, of Canada West. His speech abounded in anecdote and illustration, and was loudly applauded by the audience. He thanked the people of the United States for sending the red, white and blue, in the form of their badges to Canada, where many lodges had been established. He closed his remarks by declaring that Canadians were not all Secessionists, that the bone and sinew of the country were sympathizers with our Government in its attempts to crush the rebellion, that many had come from Canada to join our armies and fight for the Union, and that thousands would rejoice when our efforts should be crowned with success. The Glee Club then sang medley, and the assembly dispersed.

The New-York Post-Office.

The following note from Postmaster Wakeman sets to right some of the incidental statements of the article in our Monday's issue on "Postal Facilities," but, as will be seen, does not affect the general scope of our remarks, or detract from the force of our demand for important reforms:

POST-OFFICE, NEW-YORK, Sept. 28, 1863.

In your article this morning, headed "Postal Facilities in New-York," you say:

"In New-York our arrangements are all made on the theory that this is a little country town."

"There are, we believe, two deliveries a day by the carriers, but there is no means of having a City letter delivered on the day on which it is written, much less an answer received to it."

These statements are entirely erroneous. The City, embracing the whole of Manhattan Island, since the 7th of July last has been consolidated into one postal district, divided into thirteen station divisions, located as follows:

Station A, No. 129 Spring-street.
Station B, No. 382 Grand-street.
Station C, corner of Troy and Fourth streets.
Station D, No. 12 Bible House.
Station E, No. 388 Eighth-avenue.
Station F, No. 408 Third-avenue.
Station G, No. 1,259 Broadway.
Station H, Yorkville.
Station J, Harsenville.
Station K, Manhattanville.
Station L, Harlem.
Station M, Washington Heights or Carmansville.
Station N, Kingsbridge Park, or Tubby Hook.

Mails from the main office and from each station are interchanged, each way, seven times per day between Stations "A" and "G" inclusive, and six times per day, each way, between Stations "H" and "L," (Yorkville and Harlem,) and twice per day, each way, between "K," "M" and "N," (Manhattanville, Washington Heights and King's Bridge Park.)

The carrier system has been extended over the entire island, except at Stations "K," "M" and "N."

Five deliveries per day (not two) are made by the carriers, 104 in number, as follows: first, at 8 A. M.; second, 10 A. M.; third, 12:30 P. M.; fourth, 2:30 P. M.; and, fifth, 4:30 P. M., except Stations "H," "J" and "L."

The post-box system has been extended correspondingly with the carrier system, so that there are now over 600 boxes established, each of which is visited six times per day by collectors appointed expressly for that purpose, at the following hours:

At 8¼ A. M., arriving at Station at 9¼ A. M., at Post-office 10.40 A. M.
10 A. M., arriving at Station at 11 A. M., Post-office 12 M.
12 M., arriving at Station at 1 P. M., at Post-office 2¼ P. M.
2¼ P. M., arriving at Station at 3¼ P. M., at Post-office 4:30 P. M.
4 P. M., arriving at Station at 5 P. M., Post-office 6 P. M.
8¼ P. M., arriving at Station at 9 P. M., at Post-office 10 P. M.

On Sundays the last named (8¼ P. M.) collection only is made.

Each carrier and collector now wears a badge of office, and is required to give bonds for the faithful performance of his duties.

The Stations are open from 6½ A. M. to 9 P. M.

We leave it to the public whether these regulations show that the Postmaster-General regards New-York as a "little country town."

Again, as to the European mail, you say:

"The hour of closing at the General Post-office is regularly announced, but this does not furnish the slightest clue as to the hour of closing at the up-town Stations. In order to ascertain the interval which is to elapse between them, you have to visit each Station before each mail, and examine the notice on the board."

This is quite erroneous.

Had you consulted your own columns, perhaps at the very time you were penning that article, you would have found the time of the closing of the European mails at each Station duly announced.

The following is clipped from your paper of Saturday, 26th:

Post-Office Notice.—The mails for Great Britain and the Continent, via Southampton and Bremen per steamer HANSA, and for Ireland, via Queenstown, per steamer ETNA, will close at this office on SATURDAY, the 26th day of September, at 10½ o'clock A. M., and at the up-town Stations as follows:

Stations A and B, 10 A. M.
Stations C and D, 9½ A. M.
Stations E and F, 9¾ A. M.
Station G, 9 A. M. ABRAM WAKEMAN, P. M.

The Department are furnishing to the people of this City postal facilities unsurpassed by any in this country, and it is believed they will soon equal, if not surpass any in the world.

Respectfully, &c., ABRAM WAKEMAN.

Government Loan.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The sales of Government bonds to-day amounted to $400,650. Deliveries of bonds are made to Sept. 25.

GRAND RECEPTION OF THE RUSSIAN OFFICERS.

Thursday the Appointed Day—Extensive and Handsome Preparations—A Military Escort, &c., and Banquet in the Evening.

The Joint Committee of the Common Council—Aldermen FARLEY, FROMENT and HALL, and Councilmen KEENAN, McCONNELL and MURRAY, with Alderman FROMENT presiding—met yesterday in the Aldermanic Chamber to concert measures for the public reception of the officers commanding the Russian fleet now in this port.

His Honor, Mayor OPDYKE, City Inspector BOOLE and Gen. THOMAS FRANCIS MEAGHER were present. Gen. MEAGHER suggested that if there was to be a military display, the troops should be drawn up in line on Broadway, and simply reviewed, the only escort being a body of cavalry. This would save time and prevent unpleasant delay, while it would also be in conformity with the European method.

Mr. BOOLE hoped the Committee would prepare the reception on a style becoming the occasion. The affair so soon to take place would become a matter of history, and we could not afford to adopt any half-way measures in receiving our Russian friends, for such they are and their Government are.

Alderman HALL, from the Committee on General Business, reported that he had waited upon Surveyor ANDREWS, who had tendered the use of the Government steam yacht for the proposed visit to the Russian fleet.

Alderman FARLEY and City Inspector BOOLE, upon special request, started to visit the Russian Admiral, for the purpose of ascertaining what day would be agreeable to him, and during their absence a recess was taken.

Alderman FARLEY and Mr. BOOLE, on their return at 3 P. M., reported that they had visited the Russian flagship, and that after a talk with the Admiral, Thursday had been fixed upon as the day of reception.

It was then agreed that the Committee should visit the flagship on Thursday about noon, and tender the hospitalities of the City; that the Russian officers should accompany them to the City, where the First division will meet them and escort the party to the City Hall. Here the Mayor will formally welcome them to the City, when the people will have an opportunity of shaking hands. Afterward the banquet will take place.

The Joint Special Committee will embark at 11 A. M. at Pier No. 1, East River on the Government yacht, and proceed to the Russian flagship Alexander Nevsky, on board of which they will formally present the engrossed resolutions of the Common Council of New-York to Rear-Admiral LISOVSKY through their Chairman, ANDRE FROMENT, after which, accompanied by the Staff of Russian naval officers, they will reembark and proceed to the foot of Twenty-third-street, on the North River side, where a grand salute will be fired under the direction of Brig.-Gen. YATES. From the landing, the whole party will proceed in coaches to the City Hall, where Mayor OPDYKE will extend a formal welcome to the strangers on behalf of the authorities and people of this metropolis. The following General Order indicates the arrangement of the military escort:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DIVISION N. Y. S. N. G., NEW-YORK, Sept. 29, 1863.

GENERAL ORDER, No. 14.—The Division will parade on the first day of October next, to unite with the Mayor and Common Council of the City of New-York in the Reception of Rear-Admiral LISOVSKY and suite of the Russian navy.

The Division line will be formed on Twenty-third-street, with the right on the Twelfth-avenue, at 12 o'clock at noon.

The salute will be fired by a detachment from the Second brigade, under the direction of Brig.-Gen. YATES.

The line of march will be published hereafter, in the programme of the Common Council Committee.

By order of Maj.-Gen. CHAS. W. SANDFORD.
J. H. WILCOX, D. M.

In the evening a grand banquet will conclude this memorable demonstration of the citizens of our great American emporium in honor of the representatives of the Muscovite Emperor.

Should the weather be as beautiful as it has been for two or three days past, the pageant will no doubt rival the grand receptions of the Prince of Wales and of the Japanese Ambassadors, and prove a most memorable occasion in the annals of this City, and astonish the visitors, who have come so far, to find unprecedented prosperity and so joyous welcome where they may have expected to behold all the mournful signs of devastating war.

A TOUR THROUGH THE HARBOR.

In compliance with an invitation extended by Gens. DIX and CANEY, who visited the Russian Admiral yesterday morning, and were very cordially received, that distinguished officer, accompanied by the Captains of his fleet, will go on a tour of inspection around the shores of our bay and its fortifications this morning, under escort of the Generals and portions of their respective staffs, the Pilot Commissioners having p aced their steamer, the Traveler, at the disposition of the party. This will be an interesting occasion for them, and furnish some fresh and perhaps surprising items of information for the Czar ALEXANDER, who is now so vigorously engaged in fortifying his own coasts against the possible attack of the Western Powers.

A NOVELTY FOR MICHAELMAS.

A Russian Pope at Trinity.

A most unwonted and curious incident signalized the celebration of Michaelmas in Trinity Church, yesterday. The peculiar novelty of the occasion consisted in the presence of the Chaplain of the Russian flagship, Alexander Nevsky. This gentleman is a fine specimen of the genuine Russian "Pope," or "Papa," to whom some so singularly apply the Spanish title of "padre," the latter word indeed meaning the same thing, but not exactly fitting the Russian tongue. The festival of St. Michael and of all Angels is one of those most reverenced in the Greek Catholic Church, and the worthy "Papa" saw fit to observe it in an Episcopalian cathedral, which he did with every semblance of intense curiosity, interest and devotion. He was received with distinction and conducted to a conspicuous and comfortable seat near the altar, on the right side of which sat the Rt. Reverend Bishop SOUTHGATE, in the ceremonial Chair o the Episcopate.

The morning services, including the prayers and lessons, were pronounced by Rev. Drs. OGILBY, NOYES, WESTON and YOUNG. The anthem was grandly sung by the full choir, accompanied by the organ, and seemed to make a deep impression on the foreign guest, who listened in solemn reverence. It comprised one of the most striking passages of the Book of Revelations: "I was in the spirit on the Lord's Day, and heard behind me a great voice as of a trumpet, saying: 'I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last; I am he that liveth and was dead, and behold I am alive forevermore.'" The reverend Rector of Trinity, Dr. DIX, gave forth the Ante-Communion service, Dr. YOUNG pronouncing the epistle; after which the 26th hymn, commencing with the 3d verse, was finely sung.

The sermon was by Rev. FRANCIS VINTON, whose theme was the threefold relation subsisting between man and angels as the next link between him and God. In his creation he was made only "a little lower" than the heavenly host; in his redemption by the blood of Christ, he was exalted to an equality with them, and by the dispensations of ultimate grace, placed higher in the upward scale. After this interesting and impressive service, the Muscovite divine was surrounded and warmly greeted not only by the officiating and visiting clergy, but by very many of the congregation whom his modest courtesy and fine presence seemed greatly to please.

The Foreign Men-of-War—More Arrivals.

Yesterday, the following additions were made to the fleet of foreign vessels-of-war previously in the harbor:

The Nile, English line-of-battle ship, Capt. E. K. BARNARD, is the flagship of Sir ALEX. MILNE, Admiral, who is on board. Is a screw propeller of 500 horse power, 2,622 tons, 78 guns and crew of 850.

The Immortalité, Capt. GEORGE HANCOCK, English steam frigate, belonging to the North America and West India stations, is of 600 horse power, 3,059 tons, carries 51 guns.

The Nimble, in command of Lieut. JOHN DARCY; English dispatch boat; propeller of 80-horse power, 428 tons, carries 5 guns, and crew of 100.

The French frigate Guerrierre, from Halifax, Commander REYNAULD.

These vessels are anchored in the vicinity of the Russian fleet, making unitedly probably the greatest number of foreign men-of-war ever at one time in the harbor. Of course all these distinguished and singularly simultaneous arrivals have created considerable interest, surmise and comment.

Gottschalk.
MASON & HAMLIN have the satisfaction of presenting the following testimony from this very eminent artist, to the value of their CABINET ORGANS:

I congratulate you on the introduction of a new musical instrument, long wanted, and sure to find its way into every household of taste and refinement, which can possibly afford its moderate expense. Your CABINET ORGAN is truly a charming instrument, worthy of the high praise it has received, and far superior to everything of its class I have seen. I take pleasure in commending it most heartily as everywhere worthy a place beside the piano-forte, to which it is a fine complement, from its capacity for rendering much delightful music, sacred and secular, classic and popular, to which the piano is not adapted. GOTTSCHALK.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 29, 1863.

The CABINET ORGAN has been received by the musical profession with the greatest favor, and is universally recognized as embodying great improvements upon all previous instruments of its class. What the large pipe organs are to the larger churches and halls, the Cabinet Organs are to private residences and smaller churches, &c. They occupy little room, are elegant as pieces of furniture, and not liable to get out of order. Written opinions are in the hands of the manufacturers that they are the best instruments of their class in the world from more than one hundred of the most distinguished organists and artists in the country. Prices $70 to $600, according to number of stops and style of case. Warerooms Nos. 6 and 7 Mercer-st., New-York. Address MASON BROTHERS,

Gottschalk,
The celebrated Pianist, says of them:

I have examined with GREAT CARE Mr. Wm. B. Bradbury's NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTES, and it is my opinion that they are VERY SUPERIOR INSTRUMENTS.

I have especially remarked their THOROUGH WORKMANSHIP, and the power, purity, richness and EQUALITY of their tone. I recommend, therefore, these instruments to the public in general, and doubt not of their success.
L. M. GOTTSCHALK.

NEW-YORK, July 12, 1863.

The most eminent of the musical profession of New-York have also given the most unqualified testimonials in favor of these instruments.

OFFICE OF THE DIAPHRAGM FILTER, AT MCKENZIE'S PLUMBING ESTABLISHMENT, No. 305 4th-st., corner of Greene.

THE DIAPHRAGM FILTER, AS AN INVENTION, is regarded by the leading plumbers of this City, and generally by professional and scientific gentlemen, as the most simple, durable and efficient apparatus for the purification of water under pressure. It has been awarded two gold and three silver medals by the American and Maryland Institutes, and by the Massachusetts Mechanics' Charitable Association, and approved of by our most eminent chemist. (with additional improvements.)

The Diaphragm Filter, manufactured by ALEXANDER MCKENZIE, No. 305 4th-st., is the kind of porous filter to which I alluded in my recent report to the Croton Board. I consider the artificial sands one which constitutes the filtering medium to be an excellent article for the purpose. The instrument is quite durable, and requires to be reversed occasionally to insure its action.

READ.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

CATARRH CURED.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 23, 1863.

I have been suffering for the last three years from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I have had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting, often with a fullness of my throat, together with a soreness and a dropping. Dr. VON EISENBERG has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I now feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. VON EISENBERG is as skillful as it is successful; it is impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, with a certainty of being speedily cured. I give this with gratitude and pleasure. I cannot forbear again saying that my voice, which was hoarse and thick when I applied to Dr. VON EISENBERG, is now clear and good; indeed, I feel abundantly satisfied.

JAMES LITTLE,
No. 245 7th-st., New-York.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8.

I have been suffering for years past from a severe Catarrh, with a great heaviness over my eyes, with a severe depression, great uneasiness, and pain in my head, great difficulty in breathing, and a continual accumulation in my nostrils, which gave me restless nights for several years. I have consulted several physicians, who pronounced me to be consumptive. What I suffered for so long a time is indescribable. My system was entirely disarranged and greatly debilitated. I not only felt weak, but I had a cloud continually before my eyes, and my ears were so affected that I was threatened with a total loss of hearing. I must say, I think, I was guided by Providence to come to Dr Von Eisenberg, who not only cured me of my Catarrh by removing an astonishing quantity of disagreeable matter from my head, but he restored me to perfect health, a blessing I have not enjoyed for many years. Now I enjoy a good night's rest, and pursue my business with comfort. I must acknowledge that Dr. Von Eisenberg's mild and scientific treatment for Catarrh deserves the highest commendation, as the principle which directs his system of curing Catarrh is such as to render success certain.

JAMES FURLONG, No. 856 2d-av.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

SIGHT RESTORED.

JUNE 25, 1863.

My daughter brought me to Dr. VON EISENBERG almost completely blind in both eyes. I could not bear the pain nor the light. I am completely cured by Dr. VON EISENBERG, and called now to express my gratitude to the Doctor for his skill and unremitting attention, by which I recovered one of the most precious senses to me after being deprived of it for four years. It is only due to Dr. VON EISENBERG to state that I have tried several physicians in vain. I shall be happy to bear personal testimony to Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unrivaled success to any lady or gentleman who will call on me.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ.

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

A CRITICAL HISTORY OF FREE THOUGHT IN REFERENCE TO THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION.
BY
ADAM STOREY FARRAR, M. A.,
Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford.
1 vol., small 8vo., 533 pages. Price, $2.

Prof. FARRAR'S elaborate work, if faithfully followed out by means of his foot-notes and citations, would give one at least a year's solid reading. He covers the whole ground from Celsus to Colenso, from Julian, the Greek Emperor, to our countryman, Emerson, of whom he gives a brief and not wholly inadequate notice; and he takes the pains to name his authorities, even giving volume and page in many instances.

He endeavors to set forth the history of Free Thought, and show how the form of doubt in one century passed into or was supplanted by that of the next, at the same time passing judgment on the opinions and character of each writer as he names him.—Boston Commonwealth.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Liispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive proper treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send for a circular, or write.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without disturbance or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dread of consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who had exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st., Hunter. For 31 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

IMPORTANT FROM THE SOUTH.

Reports from Chattanooga to Friday Last.

FORTRESS MONROE, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The Richmond Examiner, of the 26th instant, says:

"After two distinct efforts for the recapture of Chattanooga we have now the intelligence that the enemy is still in possession of that stronghold, and strengthening its works. While events linger in Tennessee the situation in Northern Virginia has become critical. The enemy is preparing for a general attack on the line of the Rapidan and massing his forces at Culpepper. He is also reconnoitring and encroaching on the railroad and the river, and indicates a determination to fight."

REPORTS FROM ATLANTA.

ATLANTA, Ga., Saturday, Sept. 26.

Several trains with wounded and prisoners have arrived.

Reports of the condition of affairs above are conflicting. We are inclined to believe that the enemy are fortifying Chattanooga. Our lines are within four miles of that place. There was no fighting yesterday.

Gen. ROSECRANS has sent in two flags of truce, asking permission to bury their dead, and relieve their wounded. Gen. BRAGG rejected both of them.

FROM CHARLESTON.

A SPY HUNG.

The Examiner has this paragraph:

"SPENCER KELLOGG was hung as a deserter and spy at Camp Lee yesterday."

FROM THE SOUTHWEST.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

A special dispatch to the Democrat from Leavenworth says:

Authentic advices have been received at Leavenworth from Washington to the effect that Kansas will be made a separate department, under Gen. CURTIS.

Five days' later advices from Western Arkansas say the rebels COFFEE and HUNTER are encamped on Cowskin Prairie, with 1,000 men. KIRBY SMITH is at Arkadelphia with the main body of the rebel army, which is said to number 25,000 men. Gen. CORBIN, with TEXAS troops and Arkansas conscripts, has joined him.

A powder-mill at Arkadelphia, containing upward of 100,000 kegs of powder, exploded on the 16th. This loss is regarded as fatal by the rebels.

Great dissatisfaction exists with KIRBY SMITH. Gen. CORBIN is regarded as the best man in the State.

Gen. BLUNT is at Fort Scott organizing new Kansas regiments, which he expects to lead into Texas in a few days.

Negroes are arriving here in large numbers to join Kansas colored regiments.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

FORTRESS MONROE, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The flag-of-truce boat New-York, in charge of Maj. MULFORD, arrived from City Point this evening, with 300 Union soldiers.

The news in the Richmond papers appears to be meagre and of minor importance. The editorials are hopeful; but urge the most strenuous exertions to redeem Chattanooga and repel the expected advance of MEADE.

Arrest of Disloyal Editors at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The proprietors and editors of the Gazette, formerly known as the Exchange, and then the News Sheet, were ordered to be arrested to-day for the publication of disloyal sentiments. A guard was sent to seize the establishment. Only one of the proprietors (Mr. EDWARD CARTER) was found there, who was arrested. Mr. NEILSON was not found. Mr. WM. H. CARPENTER, editor of the paper, was also absent, and neither have yet been arrested.

Ten following parties were also arrested by the military to-day: MICHAEL KELLY and N. B. PIEV, of the firm of HERIAN & PIEV. The charge is selling the publication entitled "Fourteen Months' Experience in the American Bastile, by FRANCIS KEY HOWARD."

Personal.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The Democrat's Springfield special says it was stated and believed among the army men there that Maj.-Gen. POPE would be assigned to the comand of the Department of Missouri.

Gov. YATES leaves to-night for Ohio, where he will speak to the Union men.

Gen. POPE is now in St. Louis.

From Missouri.

LEAVENWORTH, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

Gov. GAMBLE having authorized Col. MOSS, of Liberty, Mo., to arm men in Platte and Clinton Counties, he has armed mostly returned rebel soldiers and men under bonds, and his men are now driving Union men out of Missouri. Over 100 families crossed the river to-day. Many of the wives of our Union soldiers have been compelled to leave, and four or five Union men have been murdered by Moss' men.

The Columbia County Fair.

HUDSON, N. Y., Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The fair of the Columbia County Agricultural and Horticultural Association opened to-day with entire success. The entries were very creditable in all the departments. The attendance has been larger than on the first day of any previous Fair of the Association, the total receipts amounting to more than $1,500. There is every prospect of fine weather the next two days and of corresponding success to this truly prosperous Association.

The Draft in Albany—Court of Appeals.

ALBANY, Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The draft in this city was completed to-day—1,443 names having been drawn. Those for the remainder of the county and part of Scoharie County will be drawn to-morrow.

The following is the Calendar of the Court for to-morrow (Wednesday):

Nos. 4, 4½, 5, 5½, 6, 8, 9, 11, 13 and 14.

LAW REPORTS.

Court Calendar—THIS DAY.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.—No. 9 preferred, Nos. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34 enumerated.

CIRCUIT—Part I.—Nos. 2263, 387, 2363, 2343½, 2699, 2743, 2945, 2877, 2891, 181, 875, 769, 989, 1633, 2203, 843, 867, 2899, 2361½. Part II.—Adjourned for the Term.

The Secretary of State Called upon to Defend Himself.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Clerke.

George W. Jones vs. William H. Seward.—This action was commenced by the plaintiff a short time since for the recovery of damages for an alleged illegal and arbitrary arrest caused by the defendant in his capacity as Secretary of State.

The plaintiff was formerly United States Minister to Bogota, and afterward Senator from Iowa.

The following is the warrant upon which the arrest was made and under which the plaintiff was then confined in Fort Lafayette:

"The Hon. George W. Jones, late Minister to Bogota and late Senator in Congress from Iowa, leaves here this afternoon for New-York Hotel. Arrest and send him to Fort Lafayette. W. H. SEWARD.

Dated, WASHINGTON, Dec. 19, 1861."

A motion now comes before the Court to remove the case to the United States Circuit Court under the recent act of Congress.

It was argued in opposition to the motion that the act of Congress divesting the State Courts of jurisdiction of causes of action arising within their jurisdiction was unconstitutional, that no act of Congress could divest a State Court of its rights to entertain jurisdiction in such action, and that such act was void, being retrospective in its nature.

Decision reserved.

James T. Brady and W. C. Traphagen for the motion.

John McKeon opposed.

TUESDAY, Sept. 29—P. M.

The Court of Appeals of the State of New-York, in term at Albany this morning, rendered two very important decisions, affirming the validity of United States Notes of legal-tender as lawful money of the United States, receivable the same as Gold and Silver, in payment of all debts, public and private, except for United States Customs and from the Government in payment of interest on so much of the Public Debt which Congress has declared shall be paid exclusively in Specie. The first case decided was made by the Bank Department of New-York against the Metropolitan and Shoe and Leather Banks of this City, to compel the payment of their notes of circulation in Specie instead of United States Notes, which were tendered to the holder of their notes, before protest. The Court affirmed the decision of the Court below against the Bank Department. In other words, it is made the supreme law of the State of New-York that all demands upon the Banks of this State, including the demand for the payment of their notes of circulation, may be paid in United States Notes as a legal tender, and lawful Money of the United States. The Second case was made by JOHN J. ROOSEVELT, of this City, (late of the Supreme Court,) against LEWIS H. MEYER, to compel the substitution of Gold for United States Notes, which MEYER tendered in satisfaction of a mortgage, made and dated prior to the passage of the Act of Congress of Feb. 25, 1862, creating these Notes of legal tender. The Court of Appeals, in this case, reverse the decision of the Court below in favor of ROOSEVELT, or in other words, decide that MEYER had the right to pay off the mortgage held by ROOSEVELT in United States Notes, as lawful Money of the United States, in payment of all mortgages and other debts, whether contracted before or since the Act of Congress creating such Notes as legal tender.

Altogether, these decisions in their scope and bearing could not have been made more comprehensive. They are, of course, final. The learned bench stood six to two. We presume that our City Banks, which, under some vague apprehension that this decision might be otherwise, have of late reduced their own Circulation from eight and a half down to less than five and a half millions, will now run up their issues again to something like the sum total of State and United States securities, which they have, in pledge, in the Bank Department. The General Banking Law, as amended last Winter, would authorize the pledge of a much larger sum of United States Stocks, say two dollars to one of New-York State Stocks, in place of half-and-half, as heretofore.

The price of Gold went up to-day to 148@148½ ℔ cent. as against 139½@140½ yesterday afternoon. This sudden large advance gave rise to numerous rumors or surmises on the Street as to the cause. The present quiet in actual military news, East and West, is favorable, of course, to the spread of rumored news; so that the capture of BURNSIDE, the danger to ROSECRANS and the weakness of MEADE, were variously circulated as accounting for the rise in Gold. The more practical or business-like reasons were found in the recent continued daily demand for Customs and Export, and the failure to-day of a large speculator for the fall in Gold, whose outstanding contracts, thus defaulted upon, threw other parties suddenly short about half a million of dollars. The rates of Exchange on London went up to 157½@158½ ℔ cent. There was not much done for the Boston steamer's mail, owing to the unsettled nature of the market for Gold.

The feeling in Bank circles to-day, on the decisions of the Court of Appeals, which settle United States Notes as lawful money, is favorable to a quiet and easy market, and loans to the Brokers are made, as the rule of the Street, at 6 ℔ cent. In reference to Bond and Mortgage security on Real Estate, the action of the Court will probably have the effect either of reducing the rate of interest on old Mortgages, to prevent their being paid off in legal-tender paper, or else a change of investment to United States Funded Stock, the interest as well as principal of which is made payable exclusively in Gold and Silver.

The Stock Market is firm to-day. Government Stocks and Treasury paper continue in demand. The Railway Shares are generally higher than on Monday, and although the speculative feeling on the Street is not so generally buoyant as through the Summer rise in Stocks, there is an improved confidence since the close of last week, and the effect of the Michigan Southern difficulty is less noticed on other Railways like New-York Central, Erie, Reading, Illinois Central, Galena and Rock Island. At the Second Board this afternoon, and afterward on the Street, the following prices were made as compared with Monday afternoon—the general market leaving off steady:

	Mon.	Tues.		Mon.	Tues.

The subscriptions to the Popular Loan in this market to-day amount to $802,950.

The day's business at the Office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States is as follows: Total receipts, $4,567,067 92, including for Customs $226,404 97; payments, $4,358,-025 26. Balance, $25,829,472 53.

The Stocks connected with the Anthracite Coal Trade continue to feel the influence of the prosperity and high prices of the trade, and the great increased tonnage of the roads and canals engaged as Coal-carriers. The tonnage passed through the Delaware and Hudson Canal this season, to the present date, is 1,033,000 tons, as against 783,000 tons to same time last year. The tonnage of the Reading Road is still more remarkable—2,397,000 tons to present date, against 1,751,000 to same period last season, which season was unprecedented for activity in the previous history of the road. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company held their monthly sale of Coal to-day, at Glipin's News Room, in Exchange-place, the prices realized being $1 20@$1 30 ℔ ton above the August sale, as follows:

3,500 tons stove coal	$7 85	@$7 95
2,000 tons egg coal	7 75	@ 7 95
3,500 tons grate coal	7 25	@ 7 30

7,000 tons lump coal	7 37½	@ 7 40
3,000 tons chestnut coal	5 95	@ 6 02½

25,000 tons.

The yield is estimated to be 60 to 65,000 bales, against 85 to 90,000 bales last year. Of this yield it is becoming a grave question whether there will really be as much as one-third suitable for export, and, already, many of our brewers are becoming alarmed lest exporters should secure the whole, and leave them only the inferior qualities. Prices are consequently opening very high, strictly prime commanding 27c.@28c., while inferior to fair crop can be bought as low as 15c. The crop of 1862, of which about 5,000 bales remain over, are attracting attention, and good qualities of these command 30c.@34c.
